GOVT. OF MYSORE.

D.O. No.1651 of 14th November, 1950, from the Chief Minister Government of Mysore, to the H.M. Communications, was discussed with Mr. K.Srinivasan, Chief Secretary to the Government of Mysore at 8.30 A.M. on 24th November, 1950. Mr. B. Ramadas Telephone Superintendent, was also present. The difficulties in providing new connections and shifting the existing ones were explained by Mr. Ramadas. It was mainly due to lack of cable pairs and also due to lack of exchange equipment particularly in Mysore. It was also stated that when the telephones were under the State Government, private connections were disconnected whenever state Government connections were required to be given. This practice is, however, against the P.&T. practice. Disconnection of private subscribers can only be done in an emergency. It was agreed that in case of difficulties, Mr. Ramadas will personally interview the Chief Secretary and explain if the need can be complied with by closing some other State telephone of a lesser important official, and on approval by the Chief Secretary, the need will be met. The Chief Secretary accepted this arrangement and agreed that Mr. Ramdas will call on him once a week.

2. It was mentioned by the Chief Secretary that some of the Guest Houses and State officials had two telephones, one from the Automatic Exchange and the other from the Manual Exchange. He desired that one of these should be disconnected. Mr. Ramdas will prepare a list of such connections, and personally take it to the Chief Secretary and get his consent to the disconnections of certain numbers. Since the load on the Automatic Exchange is heavy, it would be appreciated if Auto connections are given up, but if the State Government consider that the auto connection is necessary at a particular point, every effort will be made to meet the demand.

3. It was pointed out that there was heavy load particularly on the Auto Exchange and to relieve it, it would be desirable if a P.B.X. or P.A.B.X. was installed in the Government Secretariat. This matter was previously discussed with the Chief Electrical Engineer, and the Chief Secretary promised to pursue this matter.

4. The Chief Secretary desired that atleast half a dozen connections should be kept in hand for meeting urgent State requirements. The need for such an arrangement is accepted, and the connections made available by the closure of duplicate telephones, can be utilised for meeting such needs.

5. It was explained that there are certain auto connections in the mannual area. Immediate arrangements should be made to change them over to the manual exchange subject to the Government connections being agreed to by the Chief Secretary. This will release a number of cable pairs between the two exchanges and would help us in providing additional junctions which are urgently required.

6. The Chief Secretary mentioned that there was delay in attention at Nos. 9 and 0. The Divisional Engineer has been asked to tighten up control at both these pints.

7. The Chief Secretary also complained that there was delay in getting trunk calls through to Mysore. I have verified trunk call tickets for 23rd and 24th November, 1950, and find that there is not much delay. I have asked Mr. Ramdas to take a week's trunk call tickets with him when he next visits the Chief Secretary and show them to him. The Chief Secretary also desired that while booking calls for Mysore, it would be desirable for the Trunks operator to inform the subscriber as to how soon the call would be given. This is reasonable, and the Recording Operator should be given suitable instructions.

8. The Chief Secretary mentioned that there was lack of promptness and courtesy at times. The staff must be warned that this sort of complaints will not be tolerated.

9. It appears that no priority has been allotted to the Ministers and the Chief Secretary to Mysore Government for Trunk Calls. This question will be taken up by the P.&T. Directorate.

10. I requested the Chief Secretary to use his good offices to make a piece of land available at Mysore for the construction of an Exchange Building. He has very kindly agreed to do so on receipt of full details from the Postmaster-General, Madras.
